

He's Been There Too

Sometimes the world seems unforgiving, our hearts are full of fear. God shows the way but in our humanness, our vision is not clear.

We can turn to Christ our Savior, whose grace and strength will see us through. He embraces us with understanding love. Christ knows our fear, He's been there too.

When troubles come, despair is easy, God seems so far away. We feel weighted down by pain and loneliness. Our faith begins to fray. We can turn to Christ, our Savior, whose grace and strength will see us through. He embraces us with understanding love. Christ knows our pain, He's been there too.

God set His Son to earth from heaven's glory, heaven's glory to live amid sin and human strife. Though mocked, despised, and rejected, Jesus loves us enough to give His life.

We travel on toward tomorrow, praising God in everything we do!

For a heavenly home awaits our journey's end, Christ knows our joy, He's been there too. He's been there too. He's been there too.
