

This Offering of Praise

O Lord of creation, and God of salvation, to You now we lift up this offering of praise,

For You, in Your kindness, have mended our blindness and shown by Your goodness the light of Your ways.

Gladness and singing our worship we're bringing,
for You are the source of our joy and delight.

We join the procession of grateful confession,
"To God be all glory and wisdom and might!"

With joy and with pleasure this moment we treasure
as standing before You, we raise up our songs.
For Your hand supplies us that which satisfies us.

To You, our provider, all glory belongs.
No shadow can hide You,
No one is beside You.
Your power and majesty none can deny.

We thank You and bless You, our lips do confess You.
We worship with gladness our God, the Most High!

Alleluia! To God be all glory and might!
Alleluia! We worship our God, Most High!

We join the procession of grateful confession,
"To God be all glory and wisdom and might!"
Let heaven keep ringing the thanks we are bringing.
To You we are singing this offering of praise!
